

Protecting your investment. Protecting the environment.
Guardian™ Leak Prevention

Fuel leaks and the potentially catastrophic business disruption that goes with them are among the greatest risks to your business. And yet, there has never been a comprehensive, proactive solution. Until now.

Introducing optional Guardian Leak Prevention, the only continuously monitored, tank to hose, Class 1 leak detection and containment system on the market today. Its comprehensive combination of hardware and services ensures that the system continues to perform its best for years to come. And it could be the most important investment you ever make.

Technology with a human touch.

Reduce environmental risks. Continuous monitoring detects leaks before they enter the environment, for superior protection.

Reduce complexity. Guardian makes double-wall sumps, double-wall boots, and sump liquid level sensors obsolete.

Reduce maintenance costs. Integrated system makes testing, troubleshooting, and repairs far easier.

Reduce downtime. Guardian allows you to isolate dispensers one at a time.
